100 Years Of Stanley Park

1) Stanley Park is a public park in Blackpool Fylde coast
Where people in the local cafe often have a sandwich or small piece of toast
It's now been around for 100 years yes
Built under the eye of Thomas Mawson or so I guess

2) The largest garden feature is a fountain, with plenty a Medical Lions statue
To be sat nearby in this park and viewed by me and you
With a boating lake also near the cafe place
And a protected area of wildlife for all people to face

3) There is a crossroads with a clock tower towards the centre of this park
Where dogs are often taken with a slight bark
Dedicated to William Cocker this
Which was built to grant many a polite wish

4) Within Stanley Park is a sports centre, athletic ground and 5000-seat cricket ground
And the 18-hole golf course, designed by Alister MacKenzie, to nicely be found Because just like it totally ought
There takes place here plenty a sport

5) On the 3rd October 2026 taking place, at Stanley Park, is a centenary celebration
A big all-round party with no hesitation
Somewhere completely valued for oh quite a while
That has brought to lots of different people a very big smile
