

A New Promising Friendship

- 1) Having had a bit of a debate
I'm willing to with you go on a date
At quarter past eight
Until rather late

- 2) After giving things a think
We could maybe each have a drink
Though not having too much or we'd struggle to think
Which the Police could put down in ink

- 3) Together being heart to heart
We could also talk about doing some Art
A nice drawing club we could start
With us both playing a part

- 4) Although I'm not sure when
It'd also be nice to have a date with you again
Maybe next Friday at quarter to ten
In the pub down the road called 'The Hen'
