

The Stone-Age Man

1. About stone-age man in Britain
Many a story has been written
Whilst living in a cave
At hunting dinosaurs they were very brave
2. Keeping it quite well afloat
They were the first to invent a boat
Having carved out the base of plenty a tree
They sailed in them quite comfortably
3. With none of them living on their own
These people made lots of things by stone
They did lots of painting in their caves too
Of which still viewable today are quite a few
4. With the hair of animals stone-age man made all their clothes
And blankets under which to have a nice short doze
Also as a quite interesting feature
They had to regularly go hunting many a different creature
5. The stone-age man were to invent more and more
Doing lots of things they'd never done before
Using different natural items without much delay
They also made their food plates and dishes by using some clay
