

50 Years Of Songs Of Praise

- 1) BBC's Songs of Praise has been going for a while Bringing to many TV watchers a smile
Many a nice hymn to be listened to
With singing it on TV quite a few
- 2) There's been many a different presenter and service to be seen on TV
Including Remembrance Day and Christmas Time to be watched by you and me
With each service nicely going along
Supported by many a good singer and song
- 3) For 50 years amongst the presenters there's been quite a few
Thora Hird, Sir Cliff Richard, Sir Harry Secombe and Aled Jones
And many others known to me and you
They've each given many an interesting talk on the show
At the same time as at singing a nice hymn have a go
- 4) The very first service on 1st October 1961 on TV
Was shown in a Church in Cardiff, South Wales, for all to see
Now it's been shown in most areas of the UK
And even abroad on the occasional day
- 5) We've all been enjoying Songs of Praise
And the nice services and hymns that it does raise
Surely it will continue for really ages
Taking us through each year's many different special Religious stages
