

50 Years Of The King's Trust

- 1) The King's Trust, formerly the Prince's Trust, is a UK charity founded in 1976 yes
By King Charles III, then Prince of Wales, to help vulnerable people out or so I guess
To now be given lots of different celebration and a big cheer
It is marking it's great 50th anniversary this special year
- 2) This charity was put together to help lots of 11-to-30-year-olds out
Those facing difficulties with school, the law, unemployment, disability
And homelessness to assist no doubt
In 1999 numerous trust charities were brought together by the then Queen
A ceremony in Buckingham Palace granting it as a royal charter to be seen
- 3) The King's Trust is one of the most successful funding organisations in the UK
Which was also developed in lots of other countries with no delay
Becoming a leading charity covering a very long distance
To troubled youngsters in areas worldwide coming of great big assistance
- 4) In 2019 the trust's partnership with The Department of Health & Social Care took place
Helping lots of young people (11-to-30-year-olds) to many health & social care jobs face
Following the death of Queen Elizabeth and the ascension of Charles to the throne
The Prince's Trust changed to the King's Trust, in November 2023, to be newly known
- 5) With Rod Stewart, and some others, giving lovely songs with no hesitation
There was recently, in Scotland, a King's Trust 50th anniversary celebration
Remembering the quite big success it's had for a while Bringing back to lots of previously suffering youngsters a very big smile
