

50th Anniversary Of A Question Of Sport

- 1) To be given lots and lots of cheers
Now 'A Question of Sport' has been going for 50 years
David Vine hosting it first of all
Giving many different sports celebrities a call
- 2) Then David Coleman ran it 1979 to 1997 yes
From which year Sue Barker has hosted it very well or so I guess
Now it's been going for absolutely ages
And making all the TV magazine pages
- 3) Many a different captain appeared on this TV Sport Quiz show
Including Cliff Morgan, Henry Cooper, Fred Trueman, Brendan Foster, Emlyn Hughes, and Gareth Edwards giving it a go
Followed by Willie Carson, Bill Beaumont, Ian Botham, John Parrot, Ally McCoist, and Frankie Dettori too
Each team also colleague-wise having quite a few
- 4) Yes through this TV Sport Quiz lots of different sports celebrities were to be seen by me and you
Including Princess Anne on the 200th edition appearing too
With Emlyn Hughes as the captain often getting a little bit dafter
Constantly coming out with the medicine of laughter
- 5) The captains of the teams now still having fun
Are ex-cricketer Phil Tufnell and ex-rugby player Matt Dawson
Who with plenty an observation and general knowledge test
Under instruction of Sue Barker, and with guest colleagues, will continue to try and do their best
