

80th Anniversary Of D-Day

- 1) It's the 80th Anniversary of D-Day today
Which we look back on with a bit of dismay
On the date of the 6th June 2024
We remember one of the biggest war battles ever had before
Hopefully soon war will become a thing of the past
Completely over with at last

- 2) In June 1944 a big battle we had to face
With the conclusion of WW2 to at last take place
Victory finally to be had by us yes
Having the defeat of Germany or so I guess
Hopefully soon war will become a thing of the past
Completely over with at last

- 3) We'll have many a remembrance service today
Not letting any thought of the sacrifice made slip away
Saying we'll remember the fallen heroes forever
And let their strong bravery leave our minds never
Hopefully soon war will become a thing of the past
Completely over with at last

- 4) Today, in the UK and Normandy, there will be plenty an army parade
With memorial thoughts of the ones of the past not delayed
A moment's silence as yearly usually had
Wishing that in the future events won't be as bad
Hopefully soon war will become a thing of the past
Completely over with at last
