

80th Anniversary Of VE Day

- 1) Today on the 8th May 2025
We bring a celebration of 80 years of peace alive
So long since the end of World War II in Europe yes
Which was a very big challenge or so I guess
At the end of World War II there was lots of celebration
With-out a bit of hesitation

- 2) Across Europe many a Remembrance service will take place
With lots of ceramic poppies at the Tower of London to face
And a sky-high Red Arrow display to be seen
Recalling what an end to the war really did mean
At the end of World War II there was lots of celebration
With-out a bit of hesitation

- 3) Proving it's wrong to just be afraid
There will also be a London military parade
Watched by lots of the UK population
With street parties taking place with much appreciation
At the end of World War II there was lots of celebration
With-out a bit of hesitation

- 4) Next in August with no at all delay
Will come the VJ Day
Hoping more than ever before
There will never be another World War
At the end of World War II there was lots of celebration
With-out a bit of hesitation
