

Gary Lineker Is 50

- 1) Gary Lineker's become 50 today
At which we all say hip hip hurray
Before to goalkeepers becoming a bit of a pester
He was born on 30th November 1960 in Leicester
Gary's always been after walkers crisps as much as he can
Because in eating a lot of them he is a very naughty fan

- 2) Gary was a great football striker for ages
Appearing on many newspaper sport pages
He played football for a very long time
Getting Everton, Barcelona and Spurs going fine
Gary's always been after walkers crisps as much as he can
Because in eating a lot of them he is a very naughty fan

- 3) Gary started playing for England in 1984
In 1986 scoring more goals then every before
In that year as the top England striker to be applaud
He picked up the great 'Golden Boot' award
Gary's always been after walkers crisps as much as he can
Because in eating a lot of them he is a very naughty fan

- 4) Gary's now for years been a good T.V. Presenter
Doing completely all that he's meant ta
Through 'Match of The Day' covered many a good game
Along with host 'The Masters' and 'The Open' Golf time and again
Gary's always been after walkers crisps as much as he can
Because in eating a lot of them he is a very naughty fan

- 5) Gary who in football was never cautioned or sent off ever
We will remember the great skills of forever
And once more wish him a very happy birthday time
Hoping for him all continues to go completely fine
Gary's always been after walkers crisps as much as he can
Because in eating a lot of them he is a very naughty fan
