

Kirsty Wark

- 1) Kirsty Wark was born in Dumfries, Scotland on the 3rd February 1955
Before at Wellington School, Ayr she was to bring her intended career alive
And later went to the University of Edinburgh too
Then becoming a Television journalist to be known by quite a few
- 2) Kirsty was a presenter on BBC2 The Late Show from 1990 to 1993
Then turned to BBC programme Newsnight to be seen by you and me
And appeared live there for absolutely ages
Covering the day's news about to make all the front pages
- 3) Kirsty has been married to Alan Clements from 1989 to present
With 2 children having a family that's been very pleasant
And to by everyone be given a big cheer
She will be becoming 70 in February next year
- 4) Over the years Kirsty has interviewed quite a few yes
Including in 1990 Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher or so I guess
And she was named journalist of the year by BAFTA Scotland in 1993
Followed by in 1997 her voted Best TV Presenter quite certainly
- 5) Kirsty is today retiring from BBC programme Newsnight
With on TV having a career appearance look-back to her delight
And everyone wishing her a nice farewell
Whilst celebrating what her Television journalism deeply had to tell
