

Mr And Mrs Tindall Are Now Parents Of A Child

1. The Queen's granddaughter Zara Tindall
With everything going like it ought ta
Has just given birth to a 7lb 12oz baby daughter
Mike Tindall feeling very happy with this
With joy on his Twitter has replied thankfully to many a nice wish
2. The Queen, Duke of Edinburgh and families of both parents
Are delighted at the news
Now a name for the new member of The Royal Family they have to choose
After thinking it out each with a smile on their face
Mike and Zara decided to name her 'Mia Grace'
3. Mr and Mrs Tindall now having another gift from heaven
Were married at Canongate Kirk in Edinburgh in July 2011
Now bringing to 'Miss Tindall' plenty a smile
They'll be busy as parents for oh quite a while
4. Mr Tindall, a former England Rugby Star, is now a player coach
Helping lots of others make the right approach
Whilst Mrs Tindall has also had lots of sporting success in her career
After winning a Gold Medal in 2006 she got BBC Sports Personality Of The Year
5. Prime Minister David Cameron although not all good policies he does choose
Said he thought the further Royal birth was wonderful news
Together we'll all have to wish Mr and Mrs Tindall all the best
Who in working hard and bringing up Miss Tindall
Will now not have much time to rest
