

Susan Boyle Is 60

- 1) Susan Boyle is 60 on the 1st April this year
Her born in Scotland, in 1961, to be given a birthday cheer
Despite having a disability she was to prove not a fool
When she went to Edinburgh Acting School
- 2) After Susan had won several a local singing competition
Her mother encouraged her to enter BGT as her next mission
In which she was going to do very well
Finishing second place with a great singing career to follow as-well
- 3) Susan's first album titled 'I Dreamed a Dream' was to do very good
With her singing each song just as she should
Although occasionally having problems with her disabilities yes
She was to do quite well singing or so I guess
- 4) Susan also helped many charities out
And did that without a single doubt
Sharing her lovely voice
She appeared on 'BBC Children in Need' and 'Comic Relief' as her choice
- 5) Susan in the end was as a star singer to be seen
In 2014 even performing at 'The Commonwealth Games' in front of the Queen
And proving extremely very clever
Forever more will have stage and TV singing as her endeavour
