

The 1966 FIFA World Cup

- 1) In the 1966 UK hosted FIFA World Cup
England went on to shake all the others up
Under Manager Alf Ramsey they won game after game
Which to all the others was quite a shame
- 2) In the quarter-finals England beat Argentina 1-0
Including a goal from Geoff Hurst which was quite a thrill
Whilst in the semi-finals England beat Portugal 2-1
With Bobby Charlton scoring twice and Portugal having a successful penalty,
Just before the final whistle was gone
- 3) Then in a very close final England had Germany to face
Which following a 2-2 draw it meant extra time needed to take place
Geoff Hurst then with 2 more goals, 1 questionable, took England 4-2 up
So when the whistle finally went, at London Wembley Stadium,
They could deeply celebrate winning the 'World Cup'
- 4) With lots and lots of all round rejoicing to be seen
The England players each received a 'Gold Medal', and team winning 'Trophy',
From the completely delighted Queen
Bringing to everyone in England a smile
This was published and mentioned everywhere for oh quite a while
- 5) Having taken the England football team to Heaven
The Manager Alf Ramsey even got given 'Knighthood' in January 1967
This football achievement will be one to deeply remember and treasure
And go down as a terrific England historic event forever and ever
