

The Life Of Ronnie Barker

- 1) Ronnie Barker was born in Bedford on the 25th September 1929
Before at City Of Oxford High School he was to do quite fine
Then as an actor he began his career
Before as a comedian he did regularly appear
- 2) He met Ronnie Corbett in 1971
Forming the show 'The Two Ronnies' before much time had gone
With them until 1987 as comedians bringing to TV the medicine of laughter
Whilst each saying some jokes that were getting a little bit dafter
- 3) Ronnie also starred in the comedy series 'Porridge' in 1974
Bringing humour to a prison never seen before
Then 'Open All Hours' in 1978
In which him and David Jason did well with no debate
- 4) Ronnie then made plans to retire in 1986
Having on TV got up to lots of different tricks
Taking Joy Tubb as his wife in 1957 yes
Who got on very well or so I guess
- 5) Ronnie Barker had a life going quite fine
Giving a special tribute to 'The Two Ronnies' in 1999
Then sadly on 3rd October 2005 in Adderbury he did die
But will always be remembered no lie
