

U.S. Open Champion 2013 Justin Rose

1. Justin Rose has become the first English U.S. Open Champion for 43 years
Bringing from his countries supporters lots and lots of cheers
On Father's day lifting the Winning Cup with a smile
He looked at the heavens above remembering his father Ken
Who's been dead from leukaemia for quite a while
2. Justin remembering his father Ken with all his heart
Felt him and Father's day in him winning had played a very big part
Finishing the last days golf course on +1
He had Phil Mickelson and Jason Day's chances of winning gone
3. With his golf club and putter up to his tricks
Nick Faldo was the last Englishman to win a major trophy in 1996
And without committing any form of sin
The last Englishman to win the U.S. Open in 1970 had been Tony Jacklin
4. Justin with winning the U.S. Open over the moon
Will be taking part in other golf competitions soon
And who knows if again he plays very well
What future results will have to tell

© Paul Wilkins 23/06/13